High Times at Tybo.
The Result of a Dance-House Feud.
"Dixie" on the Rampage.
A Swamper Killed.

From the Eureka Sentinel.
On Friday night last an affray took place in a dance-house at Tybo, in which one man was mortally and two others severely wounded. The particulars are as follows:
Some time since Mart Tupper, well known here, left Eureka with a band of hurdlers for Tybo, for the purpose of opening a dance house at that place. A short time after opening his place of business several Slavonians, proprietors of a rival establishment, captured the deck of hurdlers by giving them two hundred dollars. In a few days the dancers returned to Tupper's house, and since that time an unfriendly feeling has existed between the owners of the two houses. The day prior to the shooting a young Spanish boy went to Tupper and some of his friends and told him that a job was being put up to hang Tupper, and that the Slavonians had wanted to inflict a slight wound upon himself with a pistol and then say that TUPPER HAD SHOT HIM.

This would, in the excitement of the moment, give a pretext for the intended stringing up of the victim by the Slavonians and at the same time wipe out the feud which existed between them and Tupper. But little was thought of the young Spaniard's warning, his story appearing to be improbable; but on Friday night hostilities were openly commenced. Several Slavonians entered the hurdy house and one of the number, named Jerome Davidovich, drunk and brandishing a pistol, making demonstrations showing he was hunting up a fight. Bob Robinson, the Constable, went into the saloon to quell the disturbance and arrest Davidovich, and in attempting to do so the latter struck him over the head with his revolver, felling him to the floor. Robinson quickly recovered his senses, and drawing his weapon, rose to his feet; then a shot was fired and shooting became general.

THE WOUNDED.
Robinson was shot through the right hand and another bullet passed through his hat, grazing the head in its course. Jerome Davidovich was shot through the body and mortally wounded. Thirteen shots were fired in all, eleven in the house and two from the outside, the latter passing through the door into the room. These were fired by a Slavonian named Gregovich, and better known as Long John, formerly a bar-tender at Eureka.

Robinson shot four of the shots fired, and it is thought that a bullet from his pistol gave Davidovich his death wound, and done in the discharge of his duties as an officer. The affray caused

THE WILDEST EXCITEMENT
In town, and prompt measures were taken to arrest all concerned in it, who with the exception of Davidovich, have been taken to Belmont for trial. A large number of witnesses were also taken to the county seat. At last accounts Davidovich was sinking rapidly, and in all probability is dead ere this.

On Sunday night last another affray occurred in a saloon, originating in a quarrel over a faro game. A man known as "Dixie," well known in Eureka, and William George, were the parties engaged. A pistol was drawn by Dixie, but outsiders interfered and separated the combatants before any damage was done.

A man named Theodore Hornchild, employed as a swamper by Jim Rice, a driver of a coal team, was endeavoring to couple a back-action to a wagon when, the wagon starting of its own accord over the slippery road, the tongue struck him on the head with such force as to cause instant death.

BUSINESS DEPRESSION IN NEW YORK.—The New York Journal of Commerce publishes its annual statement of the foreign commerce of the port, and the editor, commenting on the past year, says: "There has not been a season for many years when the want of confidence has been so widespread, and has so completely permeated all classes and conditions of society. Real estate has so little marketable value that a large proportion of first mortgages could not be forcibly collected if the holder desired. The most staple articles of produce, next in permanent value to the soil itself, have been low in price without exciting any fever of speculation. The great majority of textile fabrics, and general merchandise of every description, have hung like dead weights on a drooping market. The rise in the raw material gave an upward turn to silk goods, but without producing any visible excitement; and the inviting fields of the world are now beckoning to commercial enterprise with their waving harvests, and fail utterly to call forth as of old time the quick response of the busy reapers. The heart and courage has gone out of business circles. There was a time last Fall when the spirit of trade seemed about to revive, and it is commonly believed that if the results of the election had been settled, as at first announced, there would have been at least a partial return to the old activity."

The Detroit F. P. tells the following story about "a good boy": "He was standing at the corner of Campbell and Jefferson avenues when a policeman came along, and pointing to a box at his feet, this good boy said: 'The farmer who lost that off his sleigh will feel awful bad. I s'pose you'll take it to the station, won't you?' 'You are an honest boy,' replied the officer. 'Some boys would have lugged that box off home. Yes, I'll take it to the station.' It was a stout box weighing over eighty pounds, and when the officer set it down in the station-house all his bones ached. Some said it was butter, and some said cheese, and so it was opened. The contents were cobble-stones. The officer ran all the way back, and he spent hours looking for the good boy, but without any luck. The g. b. knew his business."

"Next to that repose" piously remarks President Bayard of the Argus University, "which is the blessed privilege of the man who lies six feet under ground in a country graveyard, is the repose enjoyed by a gilt-edged Bible in a Chicago newspaper office."

RENO EVENING GAZETTE.

RENO, WASHOE COUNTY, NEVADA.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 26, 1877.

A CRAWFISHER.

For profound displays of wisdom upon meagre knowledge of facts, commend to us the Enterprise. That journal yesterday quoted one-half of an article which appeared in Monday's Gazette, and attempted to answer it. The editor did not quote the rest of it because it was unanswerable, or because he had not space in which to exhaust it.

The discussion stands in this way: We said, long before Mighels' bill ever saw the light, that Virginia was the place for a reform school, and advocated its establishment. No sooner does this wonderful bill appear than the Enterprise sees its virtues, and wants it to pass, when the establishment provided for will cost the State, in the prison walls, $75,000 more than is necessary. At the same time the Enterprise stated that Virginia could furnish 150 needy applicants at once. If this is the case, why advocate its establishment at Reno, unless there be another motive, or you are acting under instructions? We said that Virginia City should have a Reform School anyway, and if the State founded such an institution, it was folly to locate it elsewhere. We never said that Storey county had asked for anything, but we gave you examples to prove that she should have this Reform School. Now why should you take offense at this and contend for Reno? What has made you love us so much in so short a time? Is there no method in the madness which induces you to reject our proposition in favor of Virginia and advocate Reno's interests?

The Enterprise was perfectly correct in saying that we thought the Hoodlum bill introduced for the purpose of settling the prison question; we think so still, and so does the Enterprise. In regard to that paper supporting the Committee report on the State Prison, it is a matter of little moment, for the Editor has crawled so often in the matter, been so anxious to favor Ormsby and not have the credit for so doing, that his influence will not decide the matter whether he favors or opposes the Committee. We have never abused Storey county nor the Enterprise, but we will say right here that the journal in question has opposed Washoe county in its usual crawling style, without citing facts or even admitting its true position in the matter. This opposition we can meet, but we will not allow the Enterprise to pretend that it gives Reno the Reform School out of love—unless it is set down as love for Ormsby county, or Harry Mighels.

Our position is the same upon this subject that it has been. We favor Virginia City as the location of the State Reform school, and have proven the grounds for such opinion. We have talked plainly, and discussed without crawling, a thing which the Enterprise seems unable to do, and we defy that journal to give any reason why the institution should be located elsewhere than in Virginia. And now we come to what the Enterprise evidently considers its piece of resistance. He says we are an ass. The editor of that paper must know that a display of his intimate acquaintance with asinine qualities can not affect the discussion in hand, and he should know that while he sits in the Enterprise sanctum "baying the moon," an ass may chance to tread upon him; therefore it might be well to omit these personal matters. We have always respected the Enterprise and its editorial columns. We have admired its hero worship, its ingenious political discussions, and read with awe its wonderful compositions upon Winter, the seasons, little children, and other irrelevant matters. We have read all this, admired, and perchance discovered a few slight infelicities among the intellectual beauties which are so common in that column, but we have never called the editor an ass, simply because it was unnecessary.

A singular divorce suit is pending in New York. The husband is 74 and the wife 70 years old. They were married in 1830. They lived together until 1854, at which time they had seven children living, the eldest being 23 and the youngest one year old. A reconciliation was effected in 1861, but was of short duration.

The Attitude of Russia and Turkey.

The London Times' Vienna special says:

Notwithstanding the departure of the ambassadors, no apprehension seems to be felt of an immediate collision. On the contrary, both Turkey and Russia may attempt to initiate a diplomatic communication. Turkey through her ambassador, has already expressed the hope that the failure of the Conference might not altogether terminate the negotiations. Russia's initiative, on the other hand, would in the first instance aim at ascertaining the positions which the various cabinets mean to take in the face of Turkey's refusal, with the view of uniting them for a common movement against the Porte. Russia will only act independently if common action should prove impossible. As for Russia's acquiescing in the failure of the Conference, it has never been thought of for one moment.

The Conference of the leading European powers has met and held and closed its session without effecting the concessions from the Porte which it was presumed the Sultan would readily make. But Midhat Pasha, perceiving that Turkey was a Power of much strength, that she had foreign sympathy, and that Russia is timid, refused to compromise the dignity of his government.

It may be presumed that our telegrams leave out more news than they state. It may also be a rational supposition that Austria and even England, secretly gave much encouragement to Turkey, while Germany was not at all unduly enthusiastic in Russia's behalf. Hence there is reason for Russia's great caution, and the Czar must as discreetly feel his way among the powers as his generals exercise military precautions in their advances along the Danube. Turkey feels emboldened through some outside assurances and is preparing for war. She has purchased $1,225,000 of arms from the United States and expresses through her Ambassador "the hope that the failure of the conference might not altogether terminate the negotiations" between herself and Russia. Russia wants to see what the various Cabinets mean to do in the premises, and, if favorable to her interests with their aid, compel the Porte to come to terms. Otherwise she will act independently, for she will not acquiesce in the failure of the conference. The Eastern question has afforded European Diplomats a fine field in which to exercise their highest powers. Andrassy, Saulsbury, Bismarck, Goltzschoff and Midhat Pasha have exhibited diplomatic strategy of the highest character. They hold an immense influence in the control of European affairs and make it quite impossible to tell whether a war between Russia and Turkey will arise or peace be maintained. There may be war next week—a century may pass and not a battle be fought.

The great Compromise Electoral bill passed the United States Senate yesterday morning by a vote of 47 to 17. The Senate had held its session during the day and night previous. Tickets on which are written or printed the words "Incorporation—Yes" or "Incorporation—No" will be counted for or against incorporation by the committee. In all other respects the election will be conducted as nearly as practicable, in accordance with the statutes concerning elections.

Taxpayers will bear in mind that this is an informal election and is recommended only for the purpose of obtaining in the fairest and most direct way the will of the majority on the subject of incorporation. EXTRA DRY.—This morning we began work at the usual hour and were extra dry for that time in the morning. Just as our inspiration was failing entirely Sam Stanaway arrived and left us a package. We opened, and behold it was wine, and extra dry too. At the top of the box was an envelope containing a card with this inscription: "Compliments of D. H. Jones." This seems to us "extra dry" conduct, for we know Mr. Jones to be a married man, and he can not possibly have gotten a divorce or gone through bankruptcy, and hence we are at a loss to account for this "extra dry" hilarity. We are in hopes, however, that all will turn out for the best, and from what we have tried we believe it will. However, sitting as a returning board, we return many thanks to the donor by a handsome majority; we hope that he may be counted in to long life and prosperity, and that when the end is reached that the verdict upon his acts and life may be "the very best," or "extra dry."

SNOW SLIDE.—We were furnished yesterday with the particulars of a snow slide which took place in White's Canyon, on Monday last. The slide occurred at Loonan's Camps, and covered them both from sight. There were five men in each camp. Those in the lower camp were seated about the fire when the slide came, and carried them down the hill, leaving them covered with loose snow. These men extricated themselves easily, and upon looking up towards the other camp it was nowhere to be seen. They instantly set to work, and soon helped their companions out of their uncomfortable position. Neither party suffered any considerable injury, except one in the upper camp, who was swept into the fire near which he was sitting. His legs and body were pinned fast by the weight of snow, but a strange chance left his arms free, and he raked snow into the fire and thus prevented a serious scorching. The side of his face was badly burned, but beyond this no injury was sustained.

A. M. & M. SOCIETY.—The Trustees of this society held a meeting for the election of officers last evening. The full Board was present, viz: C. C. Batterman, C. C. Stevenson, Jasper Babcock, D. A. Bender and Alvaro Evans. The Board went into an election of officers with the following result: President, C. C. Batterman; Vice President, Alvaro Evans; Secretary, James H. Borland; Treasurer, Chas. T. Bender. The affairs of the society were thoroughly discussed, and the Trustees will ask proposals for a lease of the track and grounds. Conditions favorable to the society and its property will go with such a lease, and we hope some good man may rent the grounds. More activity would result in racing matters, and the society's interests would be advanced thereby.

Jottings.

Thos. Kelly was arrested last evening and brought before Justice Richardson. Kelley was not a bad looking fellow, paid his costs, and is to leave town within 48 hours.

H. C. Wheeler drove a band of 1,000 sheep through town to-day. He brings them from Honey Lake, and took them to his ranch some two miles below town. We have not seen fatter sheep for many a day.

An Indian hunting party returned from Sierra Valley yesterday, and after disposing of some their game got drunk and last night they had a regular "blow out."

Berry, at the Sierra Valley summit will give a dance on Monday evening next, and every gay lothario in Reno has engaged a seat in the sleighing party which leaves Reno on Monday afternoon.

A few ashes sprinkled on the ice in front of several business houses would greatly facilitate the convenience of pedestrian travel.

The gutter snipes will be apt to make themselves scarce after this.

Dan De Quille is in the Storey County Hospital. It is sad to see a bright mind enchained by intemperance. The weaknesses of smart men should be carefully guarded against by young men who expect to make life a success.

A number of the frail ones of both sexes nightly frequent the opium dens of this town. We shall be glad when the bill preventing the use of opium shall become a law.

A bill was introduced in the Senate yesterday by Westerfield, of Lyon, asking a further appropriation for the State Prison in Washoe county. Will our citizens look after the interests of the bill?

POLICE COURT.—Late yesterday afternoon officers Barlow, Jones and Avery made a raid on the city stums. Some ten worthies were arrested and corralled for the night. About noon the gang were marched into the Justice's office and seated on the benches. We noticed that several of them were well dressed and even gentlemanly appearing fellows. And yet, strange to say the best looking one of the party was arrested while eating a meal in a Chinese house and with Chinamen. In fact most of them were arrested in Chinatown. Four out of the number were held. Wm. Johnson and Wm. Fawcett were given until 9 o'clock to-morrow morning to leave town. Isaac Simmons, Pat Shea and W. N. Cazneau were sent up for fifteen days.

J. Doe was arrested about noon by Barlow for breaking into a C. P. R. R. car. He will come up for trial to-morrow.

The officers of the law find it quite difficult to convict these worse than worthless scamps. There are a great many difficulties in making a general county vagrant law stick. The case is morally a clear one, but legally it has quite a different phase. We are beset with these fellows. Let our citizens back the law. Public opinion and the support of the best citizens must be given to our officers or they are comparatively powerless. Public opinion is one-half of the law. If the majority of our citizens don't want this scum, and say so, they will make it decidedly uncomfortable for these men, and they will go elsewhere. A good corporation also for Reno would place us on vantage ground on this question and many others.

JURILEE SINGERS.—The celebrated Tennessee Jubilee Singers afford amusement for to-morrow evening. They are an excellent troupe, and will no doubt draw a full house. Reserved seats at the Post Office. Performance at the Reno Opera House.

A Proposed Remedy.

Several citizens have said to us, "Why don't you give these night-watchmen a rub in your paper." Again complaint is made that our county and district officers, viz: the District Attorney, Justice, Constables and Deputy Sheriffs are not sufficiently diligent in protecting our citizens and their property. The night-watchmen are employed by private parties and are not in any measure responsible to the public; hence we would be doing a little volunteer work for a very few of those who employ the present night-watchmen. It is the business of those who employ these night-watchmen to attend to their own affairs. What is needed by the town is that the Board of Supervisors should appoint two men to act as night-police, or constable, and pay for their services out of the county funds or funds created by our citizens. These watchmen can then be made to attend to their duties. Our public officers cannot be on guard night and day. Get the night-watchmen and the night operations of the sly-fingered class will be less frequent. There seems to be some fear on the part of some of the citizens, and even some of the officers, that by bringing a number of these roughs and petit larceny scamps to justice that they would suffer the consequences of a just performance of their duty. We would be decidedly helpless if we grow timid and can't protect ourselves. The officers say "if you have suffered any injury or want these scamps prosecuted, say so, and enter a complaint against them. Our office is a fee office and the Board of Supervisors say we don't like to allow bills for feeding tramps, and heavy jury fees, for their prosecution." The Grand Jury say bring the vagrants to justice. Well, this is very easy said but not always as easy done. The officers want a little more backing from the citizens. They don't want to take all the responsibility of the affair nor be placed more than necessary in unenviable relations with "tough customers." The scoundrels when arrested always demand a jury, and then the lawyer for the defense must interpose every possible legal quibble to prevent the accused from receiving justice. We would candidly urge the proper officers to keep an eye open for those suspicious characters and bring them in, make their complaint and toe the mark. Do your full duty, gentlemen; and, complaining citizen, see that you come to the center also.

What our town needs is incorporation; then we would have a Police Judge, and John Doe & Co., who stole a sack of potatoes, etc., would not subject the county or town to the onerous expense of absurd jury trials. To prosecute tramps and petit criminals as many of our citizens desire would cost the county from $5,000 to $8,000 per annum. The question, we perceive, has two sides to it. Then let us examine it dispassionately and provide the necessary remedy—incorporate.

PUBLIC MEETING.—All property holders and taxpayers included within the limits prescribed by the proposed act of incorporation will have an opportunity to vote on the proposition of a limited incorporation for the town of Reno. We suggest a public meeting for next Thursday evening, at the Opera House, for the further and entirely public discussion of this question. Many of our property holders would like to hear more on this question and its merits fully discussed.

Nevada's Future Glory.

On the 14th of July, 1876, General Thomas H. Williams delivered an eloquent and instructive address, in Judges' Hall, Philadelphia. The address was recently published in pamphlet form, from which the following is an extract:

"Lake Bigler is the water of the greatest magnitude in the State. It was named after John Bigler who was the first Governor of California elected after the admission of that State in the Union. For political reasons an attempt has been made by some to Christen it Tahoe, an Indian name of doubtful meaning. In the public records of Nevada it is styled 'Tahoe,' while by statutory provisions in California, it is called 'Bigler.' In pioneer days we acquired the habit of calling it 'Bigler,' and see no reason for a change. This lake lies between the eastern and western summits of the Sierras, within a few miles, and west of our State Capital. It is more than 6,000 feet above the level of the sea. Nevada and California own the lake as tenants in common. The boundary line bisects it in its greatest length. Its greatest length is about twenty-six miles, and its greatest width about twelve. Its water is free from mineral and vegetable matter, is very pure and has a deep indigo hue, caused by reflection from the bottom. Soundings have been made exceeding thirteen hundred feet. This lake is surrounded by heavy pine forests behind which rise high, bold and rugged mountains, that give the whole scene a grandeur and loveliness beyond description. Extensive travelers pronounce it the most beautiful sheet of water in the world. Several varieties of trout are found in the lake, some of which are very large.

A healthier climate is not to be found on this continent. The confirmed asthmatic is relieved in a few days visit to our high balsam regions, and all suffering from depletion find the atmosphere invigorating. We have our long dry seasons, but all our rivers are lost entirely by evaporation, the atmosphere is kept in a pure healthful condition, whilst the cool refreshing breezes from the mountains in the summer prevent oppressive heat. The clearness of the atmosphere renders vision far reaching. Moonlight scenes are beautiful beyond description, while daylight views are perfectly grand. One standing upon Mount Davidson, with its gorgeous panorama spread out before him, is disposed for the time being to agree with the ancients in the belief that the firmament is simply a roof of the earth resting upon an outer rim of high mountains, and that he is in the center of creation. A singular and beautiful optical illusion, called mirage, occurs upon the deserts of Nevada. Its deceptions are as many and varied as those of the professional politician of the present day. The weary, thirsty traveler beholds it in the form of a lovely lake of pure water, with sloping banks, inviting him to a refreshing bath; but should he attempt to reach it he will find it only an ignis-fatuus, leading him to destruction. At other times it acts the part of a great magnifying glass, increased sizes equal to a powerful telescope. Under its influence small bushes become trees, and hills are converted into huge mountains. I once observed in a mirage the reflection of an emigrant train, in which the men were giants, the oxen mastodons, and the wagons moving houses.

Within three years the "bonanza" now exposed in the Consolidated and California mines alone will produce over one hundred and fifty million of dollars.

At the next Centennial celebration the representative of Nevada will speak for an empire in wealth and population which will have produced mineral enough in value to equal the present national debt.
